113. Around the World with Malbec

Travel the wine trail from France to the New World, tasting examples of Malbec paired with cheeses along the way. Compare the grape's inky black incarnation from where it originated - Cahors, France - with its voluptuous North American counterpart from Walla Walla. Finally, head south to Argentina, where notes of blackberry and plum will please your palate.

Learn a few fun facts, like how the New World saved the Old World grape. Your journey will end sampling a special Rasa Vineyards dessert wine from Walla Walla. Led by Katie Wendel, Certified Specialist of Wine and French Wine Scholar.

(To be held on mutually agreeable date.)

114. The “Battle of the Banks” with a Master of Bordeaux

Find out the key differences between the Right Bank and the Left Bank. Learn the answers to burning questions, such as: How did the wine trade in Bordeaux help build the British Navy? And why does Gouda cheese come with a red wax rind? Taste and talk wine trivia, over an evening of wine tasting and cheese pairing, with Master of Bordeaux, Katie Wendel. We'll end with the unctuous combination of a Sauterne and blue cheese. You can decide which 'bank' you prefer!

Included in this tasting is a 1981 Chateau Margaux Premier Grand Cru.

(To be held on mutually agreeable date.)

115. Italian Wine Seminar and Tasting for 8

Bid and win this incredible Italian Wine Seminar, with tasting and antipasti, for 8 lucky guests!

The Wine Shop and Beer Tasting Bar is home to a vast Italian wine list, and a knowledgeable staff to match. This seminar focuses on rare and indigenous varietals from the Italian landscape. We will introduce the group to different terroir, growing climates, vines, slope cultivation, and farming practices through a series of tastings. We'll also assist you in distinguishing each wine through sight, smell, taste, and finish. This seminar will expand your knowledge of Italian wines.

ABOUT WHO IS GIVING THE SEMINAR:

The world of wine can seem overwhelming and intimidating. Melanie Betti, The Wine Shop's Sommelier, has an amazing understanding of Italian wines and is ready to share her knowledge with you. Her extensive travel throughout Italy has allowed her to personally discover the wines you will taste.

This Seminar includes antipasti featuring many Italian delicacies from The Wine Shop's menu. We'll discuss how the complexities of these wines at times create a multitude of layers that can match a bold dish, and at other times, the utter simplicity transforms a dish to accentuate a single ingredient. The Italians are masters at allowing the complexity and simplicity of their wines to compliment the culinary experience.

(Must schedule in advance.)

151. Four Nights on the Metolius

This “cabin” in the woods on the banks of the Metolius River is a warm, comfortable retreat from the busy world with all the conveniences of home, except TV (DVD player available).

An architect-designed remodel including new kitchen, second bathroom and loft area was completed in 2005 to provide more living space and better views of the wild and scenic Metolius River, famous for its catch and release fly fishing.

The house has a master suite with queen-sized bed and bathroom. Upstairs in the loft bedroom is a king-sized bed, a queen sized sofa sleeper. In the sunroom below is another queen sized sleeper sofa. There is a wood fireplace in the living room and a gas Jotel stove in the sunroom. The 2nd bath is directly off the entrance and the kitchen area is open with an island prep area. The granite counter tops and Jenn Air range along with Weber barbecue, microwave, dishwasher and other small appliances make meal preparation fun and easy for the family cook(s). There is also a breakfast bar so everyone can join in the fun!

Begin your mornings on the deck overlooking the river with coffee in hand. On many summer days breakfast is followed by a walk along the river with lunch back on the deck and a good book in a lounge chair by the river for the afternoon.

Just a mile down the road from the Kokanee Cafe! Sleeps up to 8 guests and valued at $1,000.

(No dogs or smoking. Not available in July or August. Email regarding available Fall 2013 dates. Expires 6/30/14.)
